

I Love You to Death

Passage: John 13:31-35

Date: February 3, 2008

The _____ News

The _____ News

Love One Another to Death (13:34)

A command:

A new command:

The Most Compelling Truth of the Gospel (13:35)

Love is the most compelling truth of the Gospel

We want them to see the lines more than the dots

Loving one another to death

Reflect on the Message (John 13:31-35)

1. Describe a time when you were intensely aware of God's love.
2. List as many ways as you can how Jesus loves you (or Christians in general). If you can find Scripture passages that support these ideas, write those down, too.
3. Read John 13:31-35.
4. The Old Testament teaches us to love our neighbors as ourselves. The New Testament teaches us to love our neighbors, too. How is this passage even more demanding?
5. For each item on your list, prayerfully consider how we can practically love one another in the same way.

